Select Poetry.

THE HYMN OF THE WILTSHIRE LABOREES.

O God, who by thy prophet's hand
Didst smite the rocky brake,
Whence water came at thy command,
Thy people's thirst to slake;
Strike, now, upon this granite wall,
Stern, obdurate and high!
And let some drops of pity fall
For us who starve and die!

The God who took a little child
And set him in the midst,
And promised him his mercy mild,
As, by thy Son, thou didst:
Look down upon our children dear,
So gaunt, so cold, so spare,
And let their images appear
Where lords and gentry are!

O God, teach them to feel that we,
When our poor infants droop,
Are weakened in our trust in thee,
And how our spirits stoop;
For in thy rest, so bright and fair,
All tears and sorrows sleep;
And their young looks, so full of care,
Would make thine angels weep!

The God who with his finger drew
The judgment coming on,
Write for these men what must ensue,
Ere many years be gone!
O God, whose bow is in the sky,
Let them not brave and dare,
Until they look (too late) on high
And see an arrow there.

O God, remind them! In the bread
They break upon the knee
These sacred words may yet be read,
"In Memory of Me!"
O God, remind them of his sweet
Compassion for the poor,
And how he gave them bread to eat,
And went from door to door.

WIDOW COBB'S FIRST LOVE.

The fire crackled cheerfully on the broad hearth of the old farm-house kitchen, a cat and three kittens basked in the warmth, and a decreped yellow dog, lying full in the reflection of the yellow blaze, wrinkled his black nose approvingly, as he turned his hind feet where his fore feet had been. Over the chimney hung several fine hams and pieces of dried beef. Apples were festooned along the ceiling, and crooked-necked squashes vied with red pepper, and slips of dried pumpkin, in garnishing each window frame. There were plants, too, on the window ledges—horse-shoe geraniums and dew plants, and a monthly rose just budding, to say nothing of pots of violets that perfumed the whole place whenever they took it into their purple heads to bloom. The floor was carefully swept, the chairs had not a speck of dirt upon leg or round, the long settee near the fire place shone as if it had just been varnished, and the eight-day clock in the corner had its white face newly washed, and seemed determined to tick the louder for it. The arm chairs were drawn up at a cozy distance from the hearth, and each other, a candle, a newspaper, a pair of spectacles, a dish of red-cheeked apples and a pitcher of cider, filled a little table between them. In one of the chairs sat a comfortable looking woman of about forty-five, with cheeks as red as the apples, and eyes as dark and as bright as they had ever been, resting her elbow on the table, and her head upon her hand, and looked into the fire.—This was widow Cobb—"relic" of Deacon Levi Cobb, who had been mouldering into dust in the Bytown churchyard for over seven years. She was thinking of her dear husband, probably, because—her work being done, and the servant gone to bed—the sight of the empty chair at the other side of the table, and the silence of the room made her a little lonely.

"Seven years!" so the widow's reverie ran. "It seems as though it was over fifty—and yet I don't look so very old, either. Perhaps it's not having any children to bother my life out, as other people have. They may say what they like, children are more plague than profit, that's my opinion. Look at my sister Jerusha, with her six boys. She's worn to a shadow, and I'm sure they have done it, tho' she will never own it.

The widow took up an apple from the dish, and began to peel it.

"How dreadful fond Mr. Cobb used to be of these grafts. He never will eat any more of them, poor fellow, for I don't suppose they have apples where he's gone to. Heigho! I remember very well how I used to throw apple parings over my head when I was a girl, to see who I was going to marry."

Mrs. Cobb stopped short and blushed. In those days she did not know Mr. Cobb, and was looking eagerly to see if the peel had formed a capital S. Her meditations took a new turn.

"How handsome Sam Payson was, and how much I used to care about him. Jerusha says he went away from our village just after I did, and no one has heard of him since. And what a silly thing that quarrel was! If it had not been for that—"

Here came a long pause, during which the widow looked very steadfastly at the empty arm-chair of Levi Cobb, deceased. Her fingers played carelessly with the apple paring she drew it safely toward her, and looked around the room.

"Upon my word it is very ridiculous, and I don't know what the neighbors would say if they saw me."

Still the plump, white fingers drew the peel nearer.

"But they can't see me, that's a comfort, and the cat and old Bowse will never know what it means. Of course I don't believe anything about it."

The paring now hung gracefully over her hand.

"But still I should like to try; it would seem like old times, and—"

Over her head it went, and curled up quietly on the floor at a little distance away. Old Bowse, who always sleeps with one eye open, saw it fall, and marched deliberately up to smell it.

"Bowse, Bowse, don't touch it!" cried his mistress; and bending over it with beating heart, she turned red as fire.—There was as handsome a capital S as one could wish to see.

A loud knock came suddenly at the door. The dog growled, and the widow screamed and snatched up the apple paring.

"It's Mr. Cobb; it's his spirit come back again because I tried that silly trick" she thought, fearfully, to herself.

Another knock, louder than the first, and a man's voice exclaimed:

"Hillo, the house!"

"Who is it? asked the widow, somewhat relieved to find that the departed Levi was still safe in his grave under the hillside.

"A stranger,' said the voice.

"What do you want?"

"To get lodging for the night."

The widow deliberated.

"Can't you go on? There's a house half a mile further on, if you keep to the right hand side of the road, and turn to the left after you get by—"

"It's raining cats and dogs, and I'm very delicate," said the stranger coughing. "I'm wet to the skin. Don't you think you could accommodate me? I don't mind sleeping on the floor."

"Raining is it? I didn't know that;" and the kind-hearted little woman unbarred the door very quickly. "Come in, whoever you may be. I only asked you to go on because I am a lone woman, with only one servant in the house."

The stranger entered, shaking himself like a Newfoundland dog upon the steps, and scattering a little shower of drops over the hostess and her nicely swept floor.

"Ah, that looks comfortable after a man has been out for hours in a storm," he said, as he caught sight of the fire, and, striding along toward the hearth, followed by Bowse, who snuffed suspiciously at his heels, he stationed himself in the arm-chair—Mr. Cobb's arm-chair—which had been "sacred to his memory" for seven years. The widow was horrified, but the guest was so worn out and weary that she could not ask him to move, but busied herself in stirring up the blaze, that he might sooner dry his dripping clothes. A new thought struck her. Mr. Cobb had worn a comfortable dressing-gown during his illness, which still hung in the closet at her right. She could not let this poor man catch his death by sitting in that wet coat. If he was in Mr. Cobb's chair, why not in Mr. Cobb's wrapper? She went nimbly to the closet, took it down, fished out a pair of slippers from the boot-rack below, and brought them to him.

"I think you had better take off your coat and boots; you will have the rheumatic fever, or something like it, if you don't. Here are some things for you to wear while they are drying. And you must be hungry, too. I will go into the pantry and get you something to eat."

"She bustled away, on hospitable thoughts intent, and the stranger made the exchange with a quizical smile playing around his lips. He was a tall well-formed man, with a bold but handsome face—sun-burned and heavily bearded, and looked anything but delicate, though his blue eyes glanced out from under a forehead as white as snow. He looked around the kitchen with a mischievous air, stretched out his feet before him, decorated with the defunct deacon's slippers.

"Upon my word, this is stepping into the old man's shoes with a vengeance! and what a hearty, good-humored looking woman she is; kind as a kitten;" and he leaned forward and stroked the cat and her brood, and then petted old Bowse a trifle. The widow, bringing in sundry good things, looked pleased at his attentions to her dumb friends.

"It's a wonder Bowse does not growl. He generally does when strangers touch him. Dear me, how stupid!"

This last remark was addressed neither to the stranger nor to the dog, but to herself. She had forgotten that the little stand was not empty, and there was no room on it for the things she held.

"Oh, I'll manage that," said her guest gathering up paper, candle, apples and spectacles, (it was not without a little pang that she saw them in his hand, for they had been the deacon's, and were placed each night like the arm-chair, beside her,) and depositing them on the settle. "Give me the table-cloth ma'am; I've learned that, along with a score of other things, in my wanderings. Now let me relieve you of those dishes they are far too heavy for those little hands, (the widow blushed) and now please sit down with me, or I cannot eat a morsel."

"I had supper not long ago; but really I think I can take something more," said

THE REPUBLICAN.

Terms: $2.00 Per Annum in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA.,

Wednesday Morning, July 20, 1870.

Republican Delegate Election and County Convention.

The Republican voters of the several Boroughs and Townships of Centre county, are requested to meet at their usual places of holding elections, on for the purpose of choosing the usual number of delegates to which each Borough or Township is entitled, to meet in COUNTY CONVENTION at the COURT HOUSE, in the Borough of Bellefonte, on

at 1 o'clock, P. M., to place in nomination a ticket to be supported at the ensuing October election, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

☞The Borough of Bellefonte, notwithstanding its having been divided into Wards, will, this time, only be entitled to three delegates, to be chosen in the usual way.

JNO. T. JOHNSTON,
Bellefonte, July 18, 1870. Chairman.

It is stated that A. K. McClure, Esq., has taken the bonds for the completion of the Sunbury and Lewistown railroad, amounting to $1,200,000.

WILLIAMSPORT DICKINSON SEMINARY.—We would call attention to the advertisement, in another column, of this popular institution of learning, the next term of which commences August 25th, 1870. It is so well and favorably known that any eulogy from us would be superfluous.

The Lewisburg Chronicle says "that matters pertaining to the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad are in good shape, and that the prospect of letting the grading at an early date is quite favorable. We sincerely trust that it will not be "hope deferred."

The leading organ of the Democracy of Kentucky feels bound to say that it is not in favor of proscribing Democrats who adhered to the Union during the war. This is a new and advanced position for the Democracy, not only of Kentucky, but of the nation.

The rate of taxation for Bloomsburg Pa. is fixed at the rate of eight mills on the dollar, and the citizens are complaining of high taxes. The rate of taxes for Bellefonte is about thirty-nine mills on the dollar and her citizens complain of that. It is hard to please some folks!

AT a Democratic meeting in Fairfield county, Ohio, the other day, it was resolved that the war for the Union "was a partisan war for the spoils," and "a violation of the Constitution;" that the war debt "is a fraud upon the people," and that we are in favor of disowning the bonded debt, or, in other words, are in favor of repudiating it; and if paid, we are in favor of letting the abolition party and its negro allys pay it.

THE few Democrats (says an exchange) who yet remain in Congress, have issued an "address" to their party. They say the issue is "whether we shall have a constitutional and honest government," or a "revolutionary, extravagant and wasteful partisan rule." That is certainly a fair statement of the precise question at issue. It is whether we shall have a continuance of the constitutional, economical and honest government which the Republicans have given the country, for ten years, now, or whether we shall return to the sort which the last Democratic President, Buchanan, gave us: "revolutionary," in breeding and arming a host of traitors; "extravigant and wasteful," in allowing its Interior Secretary to steal the Indian bonds, and its Treasury Secretary to squander the funds, and leave the Government bankrupt? That? Or this?

UNIONVILLE AHEAD—A CLUB ORGANISED.

The following proceedings of a meeting held in Unionville, on the 16th inst., was handed us for publication. They will speak for themselves. They need no comment from us. The working men are aroused. They are buckling on their armor:

A meeting of the Union Republicans of Union township and Unionville, was held on the 16th day of July, at the school house, in the Borough of Unionville. A. N. Russell was appointed President and L. B. Bathurst and O. W. Vanvalin, chosen Vice Presidents and John Alexander, as Secretary. The President then stated that the object of the meeting was to take into consideration the propriety of forming a more perfect union of the Republicans of Unionville and Union township, and to express our opinion on men and measures, and such other matters as may come before the meeting. Dr. J. M. Blair moved that a committee of three be appointed by the president to give expression of the borough and township, and their action in preparing for the fall election, which motion carried, and the President appointed Dr. J. M. Blair, Geo. Alexander and David Campbell, said committee. The committee withdrew and in a short time returned and reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Republican citizens of Union Borough and Township, form a Union Republican Club, and that all Republicans are requested to enroll themselves as members.

Resolved, That Dr. J. M. Blair, Geo. Alexander and Wm. H. Smith, be a committee to prepare rules and regulations for the government of said Club and report at the next meeting.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse and approve of our member of Congress Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, his able and eloquent speeches on the Tariff and on the Currency, Taxes, &c., all of which prove him to be the able and faithful advocate of the working classes and the true friend of his country, and that we look forward with pleasure, to his renomination and election.

Resolved, That we esteem Wm. F. Wilson, Esq., as an able and eloquent advocate of Republican principles, a loyal and patriotic citizen and a high minded honorable man, and recommend him, with pleasure, to the people of Centre County and of this Senatorial District as the proper person to be chosen as our standard bearer in the coming Senatorial contest.

Resolved, That the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN, edited by Col. W. W. Brown and Capt. R. B. Barger, is the only true and acknowledged exponent of Republican principles in Centre county, and that we recognize it as the able and fearless organ of the Republican party, and a terror to schemers, cliques, and disorganizers, and therefore, we do recommend it to the support of all true Republicans in the county and elsewhere.

Resolved, That we recommend to our Republican brethern in the other townships, to form similar Clubs without delay, in order to have a communication of views from the people themselves, as respects who shall be candidates for the several offices to be voted for by the Republican party at the next October election, so that the nominating conventions will have no excuse from nominating men of character and ability.

Resolved, That when this meeting adjourns it adjourns to meet at the call of the President.

The resolutions being read, on motion they were adopted unanimously. When it was further

Resolved, That these proceedings be signed by the President, Vice Presidents and Secretary and published in the Bellefonte Republican, and that a copy be forwarded to Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong.

Adjourned.

In Randolph county, West Va. the other day a little boy of Samuel Currence, was eaten up by a panther.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS.

Money Wanted---Work to be Done---How to Support a Newspaper---Centre County oppressed by Democratic Misrule.

If we had a surplus capital of $20,000, we would not trouble our subscribers with bills for a year's subscription, nor with hateful duns, and moreover, we would never stop a paper on a man who felt himself unable to pay for it; but on the contrary would send a copy to every poor man in the county. Unfortunately our surplus capital does not amount to that sum, and therefore we must do business on the cash principle as nearly as possible.

We have published the Republican now, over eighteen months and have never sent a bill outside of Bellefonte to one of our subscribers. So, you cannot complain of incessant dunning.

We have not even eaten out, nor drawn out our advertising bills as did the National.

We started with a thirty-two column paper. We have now increased to thirty six columns which we send you at the same price. This is more than we agreed to do, and more than you bargained for.

Now friends in order to make the REPUBLICAN a live and readable paper we must have money. We must have our money when it is due, and our terms are $2,00 per annum in advance.

Of the 2300 hundred subscribers now on our subscription book, fully 1000 have not complied with our terms, and paid in advance. What mechanic would like to work a year or two years, and wait upon one half of his wages till the close of the time? What farmer would work cheerfully year in, and year out, if he were compelled to wait a year for the proceeds of all the products of the farm? Not one of you would do it. Are you not unreasonable, then, when you ask us, to do what you would not do? Is it right, that we should print on, print ever, and not get our pay; while you are enjoying full barns, rich larders and plethoric purses?

We need money and must have it.

We want each and every one of you to send us the $2,00 you owe us within the next THREE WEEKS.

Every one of you can afford to do it. It is now harvest and you all have money.

Attend to your paper bill the first thing you do.

We have 400 subscribers who have taken the REPUBLICAN until they now owe us two years subscription or $4,00 each.

We want our money now friends and you have it or can get it without any trouble to you, so please send, or bring it, right along.

Now if you will, each and every one, do this, and we are proud to say, that you are perfectly able, you will do your duty to yourself, to the Republican party, a great kindness to us, and at the same time, your kindness in the aggregate will count to us in greenbacks, over $2000. Who will be the first to respond?

Centre is one of the most wealthy counties in the state. We lack but 250 votes of being in the majority in the county. In numbers the two parties are nearly equal, while we claim to have a majority of the reading, intelligent portion of our citizens in the ranks of the Republican party. We have the loyal portion of our citizens in our ranks. We have the majority of the intelligent working men, two to one.

Under these circumstances, the idea of the Republican party not being able to support its county paper—its organ, is supremely ridiculous.

Again we would have you remember, that rich as you are, not one of you can get any of our city daily or weekly, papers, unless you pay for it in advance.

This is true and you know it, then why should you ask us to trust you—to wait on you six months or a year? Ask yourselves the question "Is it fair, is it right, is it honest"?

There can be no doubt in regard to your ability to pay, and it is equally certain that nine out of every ten of our present subscribers could induce some friend or friends to try the REPUBLICAN six months or a year. You all have influence and if you, wish to see Centre county redeemed from copperheadism and the County taxes diminished, you should give that influence to your organ—the REPUBLICAN. You should aid it by both your money and influence.

There are three ways, says the Independent in which to support a good news paper; three ways to give it life, health and a prosperous existence.

1st. By writing for it, and enriching its broad columns with good, sound, attractive reading.

2. By subscribing for it, and inducing all your friends to do likewise.

3. By advertising in it your business and your wants, and thus give it the extra, material, tangible support which will surely enable it to prosper.

Republicans of Centre we are on the eve of an important campaign. We have a Congressman, a Senator, and a County ticket to elect. You cannot conduct the campaign without the aid of the REPUBLICAN—your organ. We call upon you then to arouse to action, bestir yourselves or the rebels and copperheads will again seize the helm in the State and Nation. If you would prevent this, work for the REPUBLICAN. Observe the three rules laid down by the Independent. Write your best thoughts for the REPUBLICAN; subscribe for it your selves, and induce your friends and neighbors to subscribe; advertise your business in its columns.

Will you, reader, give a little attention to this matter NOW?

Remember our terms are $2,00 in advance, and if you send us the money immediately, you will save us the trouble of sending out bills at the expiration of THREE WEEKS.

Shall the Watchman and the RING rule on forever? Will the Pennsvally Democrats never be convinced of the wickedness of the Bellefonte Ring? Take the REPUBLICAN and pay for it in advance.

THE glorious results of the first fifteen months of President Grant's administration are thus briefly summed up by the Chicago Republican: "The reduction of the public debt $105,000,000; continued peace with all mankind, and entangling alliances with none; a reduction of the expenses of every department; honest collection of the revenues; ousting and punishment of dishonest officials; improved public credit; improved finances; economy; rigid accountability on the part of officials, and general peace, quiet, and restored law and order in all parts of the Union."

The Frederick Examiner and the Annapolis Gazette advocate the claims of the Hon. H. H. Goldsborough, of Talbot county, as the Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland.

THE CENTRE HALL REPORTER.

The Editor of the Reporter, in his issue of the 15th inst., appears to have an attack of hippocondria, and exhibits his grief at some strictures we were forced to administer to him in regard to his sycophancy to the mandates of the Court House Ring, and want of independence generally, as the mouth-piece of the Pennsvalley Democracy.

History points out many men who boasted of their independence, while, at the same time, they were the servile mercenaries of others, which, from circumstances and acts, we are forced to believe is the position in which the Editor of the Reporter has placed himself.

The notice we took of the Editor, and the strictures we made from time to time, did not "misrepresent him." In these we merely called his attention to the promises he made in his editorial inaugural to his Democratic friends, and which he has not kept in good faith, in our opinion, as we read his promises.

He well knows the contempt in which he was held by the Bellefonte Democrats. Whether it was caused by trickery of the Ring, or fear of an independent course, regardless of the schemes of the Bellefonte clique, we do not say, but they put the Editor and his Democratic friends under the ban, and Fred. very well knows that when he was a candidate for the Legislature, the Bellefonte Democrats considered him a dead weight on their ticket, and said so. They said it to us more than once, and would have been delighted to have seen you defeated. Some of them did their best to defeat you. Will you deny this?

And now, Fred, since you have established the Reporter, have not the Court House Ring (for you admit in your last issue the existence of the Ring) and their cohorts been throwing obstacles in the way of your paper?

Does the Watchman ever notice the Reporter? Does it ever refer to it, or give it a passing compliment? Does it ever speak of the Reporter as a co-worker of Democracy in centre county? No! The Watchman does no such thing; but it looks upon you as an interloper, and the Sachems of the Bellefonte Ring perform their part in the drama until you, Fred, as Editor, are compelled to exclaim: "We say here, for once and for "all, for the benefit of poor apple dum-"plings only, (dumpling time is at hand —will Fred join in devouring them?) "that what he is pleased to call the Ring "has no sympathy at all for us, and has "ever given us the cold shoulder,' and, as proof positive of his assertion says that "this paper (the Reporter) receives "little or no official patronage to keep "it up—a trick even having been re-"sorted to, to prevent Sheriff Woodring "from publishing a single legal notice "in the Reporter."

Does not this confession prove all we have said? And now, Fred, since you have confessed the fact, will you still knock under, and be driven from your plain course, and duty to your Democratic friends in their majority townships? Will you demand boldly and fearlessly "equal and exact justice" for the honest and heretofore hood-winked country Democrats of Centre?

We will watch the course of the Editor of the Reporter. We will take notes; we will mark well any visible signs of independence; but must confess that we have little hope; and since the Ring has called the standing committee to go through the sham of electing delegates, we expect to see Fred go in for Alexander and the Watchman and Ring's picked ticket. We expect to see him bow his head and

"Crook the suppliant hinges of the knee,
That thrift may follow fawning."

We expect to see him get down in the dirt a little lower than almost any other white man would go to accommodate those who have always despised him—the co-horts of the Bellefonte Democracy. We expect the Editor of the Reporter to do as he has often done before—kiss the rod and bless the hand that smites him. Perhaps this is what he calls manhood, or considers acting independently..

We like Fred Kurtz as a man. He has many good points about him; but he is deficient in political courage. He is altogether without this redeeming quality in a politician. If it were not for this deficiency, Fred has it in his power to make the Ring follow him, instead of being as it now is, his dictator and master.

We should not have spun this article so long, but we have several Democratic subscribers throughout the county who complain that they have no independent organ that exposes the acts of the Bellefonte office-seekers who live by the sops of office, and consider it treason to take the political tete from them, or to interfere with their cosy living at the expense of the taxpayers of the county.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Congress adjourned on last Friday. After a third conference report the Indian Appropriation bill was agreed to, which will, in all probability, prevent a general Indian war on our frontier.

The new tax law is expected to furnish the following results: Income $14,000,000; Spirits, $52,000,000; Tobacco, $30,000,000; Beer, $6,000,000; Stamps, $15,000,000; Gas, $2,000,000. The new law in respect to the duties on imports is to take effect January 1st, 1871; in respect to most internal taxes on income and dividends are retained through 1870 and 1871.

The tariff bill, as agreed upon by the conference committee, the duty on pig iron is fixed at $7 instead of $9, and on cast iron scrap $6 instead of $8, and on wrought scrap $9 instead of $8. This distinction is correct, and will give more satisfaction than the former bill would have done.

On steel rails the duty is 1¼ cents, and on steel rails, part steel, 1 cent per lb. On steel rails the duty was heretofore 2¼ to 3 cents per lb.

Among almost the last acts of the Senate was concurrence in the House bill granting a pension of $3,000 to Mrs. Lincoln.

MEASURES THAT FAILED.

Seventeen land grant bills which the adjournment left on the speakers table.

All schemes for inflating the currency.

The recognition of Cuba was killed in the House, and the San Domingo annexation scheme in the Senate.

The proposed legislation for the revival of American commerce fell through by reason of the narrowness of the scheme.

The Census bill, failed on account of personal quarrels in the Senate.

THE L. C. & S. C. RAILROAD.

In our article on the Railroad last week, we were not so far behind as the Watchman supposes. We knew all about the meeting held at Centre Hall, June 15th, and because we were booked up, we would not permit ourself to say that the money had all been subscribed when such was not the fact. The Watchman in his criticisms on our article admits that the money was not subscribed, but merely guaranteed by a few responsible energetic friends of the road. Who is in the mud now Mr. Meek?

And the work goes bravely on, and men are subscribing now who never subscribed before, and all Pennsvalley is in a glow of glorious enthusiasm over the prospects of the speedy completion of the road.

The following letter was handed us by R. H. Duncan, Esq.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12, '70.

GEO. F. MILLER, Esq., Dear Sir:—If the citizens along the line of your road between Lewisburg and Mifflinburg will subscribe and pay in, as called for, forty-five thousand dollars, to meet payment for grading and right of way to west limits of Mifflinburg, and conform to other stipulations of agreement as there set forth under ample personal guarantee, this being done, you can rely upon the P. & E. Railroad company providing the means needful for your company to put down the track, and place the road in condition for trains as fast as the line is graded from Lewisburg west.

Very respectfully, &c.,
THOS. A. SCOTT,
Vice-Pres't Pa. Railroad.

This looks very much like business. The Mifflinburg Telegraph says:

"A committee from Mifflinburg met the authorities of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at their office in Philadelphia, on Tuesday, the 12th inst., and a satisfactory settlement was concluded, and the Road to Mifflinburg, as originally agreed upon will be put under contract immediately. The advertisement for a letting will appear in the next issue of this paper. Once completed to Mifflinburg we will be ready to speed it through to a Western outlet.

The Lewisburg Chronicle whose editor is intimately acquainted with G. F. Miller, Esq., President of our Road speaks by the book as follows:

"We are authorized to state that as soon as the necessary papers are signed, the letting of the road as far west as Mifflinburg will be advertised probably in our next week's issue. This is gratifying news indeed and heralds the dawning of a brighter day for beautiful valley of Buffalo. There is something tangibly satisfactory about such news as this gratifying to all alike, whose hearts have been made sick with "hope oft deferred," and gratifying especially, we presume, to the good people at the other end of the line, who have been sorely exercised of late by reason of certain grievances too numerous to mention" here.

Jas. P. Coburn, Esq., who is, and has been ever alive to the interests of this work, writes us a letter dated July 16th, inst., containing the most cheering news, and says, "I have taken the liberty of saying that Haines township has subscribed nearly what is required of it, and is prepared to make it good any day."

"He says, "Penn township is also prepared to meet her proportion. So you will see, although we are quiet, we are still at work determined to do our part in procuring this much needed and long hoped for public improvement."

Mr. Coburn adds, "I am informed all differences between Lewisburg and Mifflinburg are adjusted, and that part of this road will be let at an early day."

We thank Mr. Coburn, Duncan and others for the news furnished. This is right gentlemen; push on your road and keep us posted.

A SOUND OPINION.

In the course of an opinion pronounced before the United States District Court, for the Western District of Pennsylvania, Hon. Wilson McCandless presiding, that learned and accomplished jurist used the following language. The case was that of a farmer who held that he had a right to dispose of his own produce in the public markets of Williamsport without the payment of any tax. Judge McCandless said:

The courts of the United States are tribunals which were created by the Constitution to stand between the Government and the people. While we see that the laws are enforced, we must take care that the citizen are not oppressed. The decisions of the several departments at Washington are entitled to great respect, but they cannot, and do not, control the judgment of our courts. Otherwise we would not be, as we are designed to be, an independent branch of the Government, wholly irresponsible for the soundness of our decrees to either Congress or the Executive. In this matter of taxation, which has annoyed the world from the days of the tribute to and the image and superscription of Cesar, and which is always a source of discontent; in protecting a people, we must preserve the faith of the nation. To re-establish the Union, and place it upon a permanent basis, we have contracted a large public debt, the principal and interest of which must be paid to the uttermost farthing. Anything else would be derogatory to our personal integrity, and disgrace us in the face of all nations. Every citizen, therefore, is bound to contribute to the common funds, and his omission or refusal to do so inflicts an injury upon his fellow-citizens, and upon the Government, to which he is indebted for the protection of his life, liberty and property.

After some reasoning on the details of the case, the Judge concluded:

As this is a case of the first impression, no published opinion of my brethren of the bench having yet appeared; as it involves large interests to both the Government and people, I have given it careful consideration, and the more I reflect upon it, the better I am satisfied the decision is right.

Your verdict should be against the defendant.

The jury immediately returned a verdict of "guilty in manner and form, &c.," whereupon the defendent was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, the special tax for two years, $20, and the costs.

The case itself is of interest to the profession, and the healthy sentiments of Judge McCandless will be read with special pleasure by those who remember him in days gone by as a leading member of the Democratic party. The rebellion found him on the bench, but it never found him doubtful on any of the means necessary to its complete suppression

NATURALIZATION.

The Democracy, says the Cincinnati Times, have sought to make a party question out of the attempt of Congress to place the naturalization of foreigners in the Federal Courts. The sole object is to prevent the infernal frauds that are perpetrated in New York city at every election. The Democracy seem to be opposed to any reform of abuses that will deprive the party of the advantage of rascality at the polls. They know that it is the desire of honest men of both parties to have an honest election, and every mother's son of them knows that about one-third of the Democratic vote in that city is sheer scoundrelism. And yet they oppose a reform! They do so hoping to make party capital out of it. It would involve no limitation upon naturalization, except that the Federal Courts are not quite so convenient as State Courts. Had the State Courts, foreigners and their friends, been honest in it, this measure would not be demanded; but now there is no other way but to shift the business to courts that are not mere party engines, and if that will not serve the purpose, something else must be done. Look out, gentlemen!

THE BOURBONS AND COURT HOUSE RING.

In the REPUBLICAN of the 29th ult., we referred to the procuratorial command of the Bourbons issued through the columns of the Watchman in an editorial in which they stated "What we "want at Harrisburg next winter are "sharp, energetic, experienced Legisla-"tors. Men who have had experience "in the House or Senate, who are ac-"quainted with the politics of the State. "These are the kind of men that should "be sent to both branches of the Legis-"lature, and then gives notice to Jacob G. Moyer, and the Pennsvally Democracy that he and they must stand back for one year, with the orders, that for "the future success of the party, Jacob, "must waite that year, provided (ha! "ha!!) some one who has had experi-"ience as a member can be secured as "a candidate.

Upon this Bull of the Watchman being promulgated James Burns who is not only "acquainted with the politics of the State," but with the kind of Senators and Legislators that should be elected made his appearence in this place. It is said he agreed with the Bellefonte Ring that it was very important for the lobbiests to have elected "sharp energetic, experienced Legislators, that know the politicians who hang about Harrisburg" and who understood the wires, in buying, swaping and selling votes in the Legislature. Mr. Burns called upon them to remember that next winter the Legislature would have the districting of the State, but the Eldorado laid in the chartering of Banks and other monied institutions, Rail Roads, divorces &c, where there would be legitimate pickings. This was agreed hem con. But the difficulty arose as to who was the most "sharp, energetic, and experienced" in this Legislative financiering.

Meek insisted that he could not be beaten in that business, and pointed to his three story brick, with a HALL in it, as proof positive. He said that Shugert would have trouble with the coffee pot Naturalization certificates. He assured them, also, that Mr. Orvis had spread his net in other waters and was waiting for other events.

Whereupon the entire San hedrim encored Meek. Burns and Gen. Potter, and Aleck Reed and Meek, and all the Bourbons present agreed that C. T. Alexander, Esq., was good on a sly, and the policy was—that as the Watchman had sounded the bugle to the drill sergents that none but "sharp energetic experienced men" should be nominated, and that they could only be found in the Ring and as a feeler, we have the Watchman editorial gotten up in a hash, in the shape of a communication located at "Pine Grove" signed "Democratic" in nearly the very words of the Watchman editorial of three weeks ago. For instance "We need experienced men in the "Senate and House next winter—a man "who has had experience as a Legisla-tor."

Is it not clear that the writer of the editorial and the author of "Democrat" are one and the same party, coined and stamped in the Rings wigman? Is it not clearly the result of the Burns, Potter and Meek conference? For the writer immediately adds, "our decided preference is for C. T. Alexander."

This is the game of hands I win, tails you lose. The Ring have the whole political machinery in their control. They make the nominations, and when the proper time arrives to blind the faithful, they call their County Convention to meet and confirm their act.

Now we sound a note of warning. Let the Pennsvally Democrats take heed. If J. G. Moyer and his Democratic friends on the South side do not be on the alert—on the look out, they will have a chance to vote for Meek for the Legislature, and Alexander for the Senate, and if the friends of Jacob G. and the Democrats of Pennsvally do not stick to the ticket Bill Musser will have them read out of the party.

For the REPUBLICAN.

AARONSBURG, July 16, '70.

COL. BROWN:—Many of the farmers were in town to-day, and, as a matter of course, had some political talk. I was present where there were six Democrats and three Republicans, when the charges made against, and the tricks of the Bellefonte Ring, as exposed by the Republican became the topic of conversation.

One of these men remarked that he was satisfied that it was the intention of the Ring to monopolize the member of the Senate and Assembly to themselves this fall.

Three of the Democrats spoke up almost simultaneously, and said "they knew all about it; and that Bill Brown was right; that the Ring would have delighted in the defeat of Jacob G. Moyer last election," and that "they were trying now to get Moyer to decline a nomination for re-election, promising a renomination and re-election next year." One of the Democrats, with clinched fist, declared that "he would stand it no longer." He declared that "the Ring was a curse to the party in the county;" that he "would not endure the defeat of J. G. Moyer," and said "if Meek, Alexander; Shugert, or any of the Ring were nominated, he was in favor of an independent ticket." With this declaration the other five agreed, and swore that "they were for Moyer, or an independent ticket." They declared that "they would not vote for any of the Ring."—One of them emphatically said he "knew twenty others who had made up their minds to throw any one of the Ring that should be nominated this fall." He further said "it was the only way to make the Ring act fairly." He declared that he "knew what he was talking about, for he had been sounded to know if ex-Sheriff Kline or Gephart would not suit us Penns valley folks better than Moyer." The speaker said "the trick is too shallow; it will not do; neither Kline nor Gephart will suit us, because," said he, "they had served a time under the Bellefonte Ring, and neither of them was fit for the office. It will not do," said he. "They want our votes. They don't want any of us to have an office. We are good to do the voting, but not sufficiently intelligent, in the Ring's estimation, to hold office." They all declared they "were for the election of Moyer, or in favor of an independent ticket."

So you perceive, Mr. Editor, the Democrats over here have begun to think for themselvfis. HAINES.

POTTER'S MILLS, July, 16, '70.

ED REPUBLICAN:—The time for selecting our candidates for the offices to be filled in the county, districts and townships is near at hand. The unparallcled success of Grant's Administration, the reduction of the public debt, the wise action of Congress upon the tariff, currency and internal revenue bills, the revival of business all over the country, combine to render the Republican policy popular, and the party invincible.

In the county we have been gaining so steadily and rapidly upon the enemy, that we may very reasonably hope to carry our ticket this year. We shall, no doubt, secure the nomination of one of the Senators, as we are entitled to that at least, and all we need more is, a strong candidate for Assembly; one who will fully and fairly represent us; one who, in districting anew our State, will have the intelligence and energy which will protect our rights and serve our interests.

I think we cannot do better than we did last year, in nominations. I hope, therefore, that our friends will make up their minds to put James P. Coburn on the war-path again, confidently believing that this time we can elect him.

J. B. L.

A VOICE FROM BOGGS.

R. B. BARGER & Co., Gentlemen:—As the time is approaching when the Republicans will convene for the purpose of nominating candidates for the respective offices, to be elected at the coming fall election, we think it is highly important that something should be done—that some move should be made to secure suitable candidates to fill those offices, and especially do we think it time to agitate the Senatorial question.

You Bellefonters are a little too slow; we think you never begin in time; and so we have concluded to set the ball to rolling.

The people of Boggs township are almost unanimously in favor of Wm. P. Wilson, Esq., as our Senatorial candidate. Mr. Wilson is a staunch Republican—a man of honor, honesty, integrity—in short, a man of high moral character. With such a man as Wm. P. Wilson to represent the people of this Senatorial district, we will have nothing to fear. We know Mr. Wilson well. We know him to be a man above a mean act, and his hands are too pure to be stained by bribery or corruption. He will make a strong candidate, and with him as our standard-bearer in the Senatorial contest, victory is sure to be ours. MANY WORKINGMEN.

A LETTER THAT SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

—We find the following letter in The Ontario County Times:

LIMA, N. Y., Jan. 30, 1870.

T. M. HOWELL, esq.—DEAR SIR: In the year 1837 you called at my store in Canandaigua, and with the kindest of motives advised me not to be so ultra on the Abolition question, as it was evidently injuring my business.—During our talk you made this remark which I always remembered, and have thought of often since: "You will never live long enough to see an Abolitionist elected to Congress."

Now I write this line to say that I am thankful I have lived long enough to see a majority of both Houses of Congress composed of men of that sentiment. I have seen a practical Abolitionist elected President of the United States. But I confess I never expected to live long enough to see a negro elected to the United States Senate placed there by the direct action of the Democratic party of Alabama to fill the seat once occupied by Jefferson Davis.

I might say, with old Simeon, "Now Lord, let"—but hold on! There is a chance that I may live long enough to see a member of that despised race fill the seat of Andrew Jackson. When that time comes, I will finish the prayer of Old Simeon.

Excuse my few remarks, for I think you said, "If you ever do, let me know it." I have complied. Yours, very truly, JOHN MOSHER.

The nomination by the President of Theodore Frelinghuysen, of N. J. as Minister to England, in the place of Mr. Motly recalled, was confirmed by the U. S. Senate, the 15th inst.

The First Internal Revenue District of Illinois contributed last month $1,172,524 67 to the national treasury.

.....Harry G. Fisher, a little son of Mary B. Fisher, fell into the canal, and was drowned, one day last week.

.....For the size of the place, Watsontown is poorly supplied with churches. Our Methodist and Presbyterian friends should build. Both these bodies have considerable strength, and we can see no good reason why church buildings are not erected.

The following items are taken from the Clinton Democrat:

....A bed of iron ore, four feet in thickness, and yielding 50 per cent., has been discovered on Mr. J. W. Devling's farm, 1¼ miles from Lock Haven. The vein is believed to be exhaustless, and the Lock Havenites are making great efforts for the establishment of a furnace.

....Bowman's paper says that a large amount of false hair worn by the ladies is cut from the heads of convicts. That paper ought to know.

.....A man lying on the track of the P. & E. railroad, near Wetham, was run over by the night train and killed. A bottle close by revealed the cause.

....Cameron county, now in the standing the scarcity of money, is steadily improving. New and substantial dwellings and places of business are being erected in every part of the county. A number of Eastern capitalists are looking for sites to erect Tanneries, and there seems to be better prospects for the rapid development of our resources than ever before.

ALMOST A FIRE.—Some mischievous or malicious disposed boys, started a fire in Col. Tate's stable on last Sunday evening, which if it had not been discovered, would have proved damaging to the building.

CORRECTION.—The Watchman says we were wrong in stating that trout fishing expired by law on the 1st inst. Probably we were, as we generally find ourselves wrong whenever we take an item of news from that paper.

JOVIAL.—Persons visiting the Snow Shoe coal mines, by calling on Alfred Kinsloe, who with a dog and cat keeps batchelors Hall, near No. 2 mines, will find an intelligent, interesting and jovial companion. How is that for high, Alpha?

IMPROVING.—We are pleased to learn that A. Crissman, Esq., of Snow Shoe, who has been confined to his house by sickness for the last two years, is improving in health, and is now able to ride out. He recently had his buildings newly painted which adds greatly to the beauty of his residence.

THE ladies' new style conical, sugar loaf or tower-of-babel hats are getting of higher proportions each succeding week. The effect is rather pleasing and is a decided improvement upon that produced by the butter plate or lamp mat style, notwithstanding that some of them look like the hanging tower of Babylon.

FRACUS.—Some of our colored citizens forgetting their manhood, on last Saturday evening engaged in a general row at the Cummings House stables. It appears they had been harvesting and were full of benzine. We would remind them that such disgraceful scenes do not elevate their manhood in the eyes of any civilized community.

DEDICATION.—The Wigwam built for the use of the Presbyterian Sunday School of this place, was dedicated on last Sunday. It is a very pleasant and convenient building for the purposes intended, and we presume the best of the kind in the State. The ceremonies of dedication were very interesting and from them, may flow great good to the Sabbath School cause.

DENTISTRY.—Under the head of Professional will be seen the card of Dr. S. Belford. The Dr. now divides his time between this place and Lewistown remaining here two weeks. Persons wishing new teeth and desiring to patronize the Dr. will find it to their advantage to give him a call as they can rely on having their work as well done as any other Dentist can possibly do it, no matter when he may be found.

SHINGLES.—Mr. Straight, of Williamsport, Pa., has purchased the Thomas saw mill, in this place, and fitted it up with new machinery for the purpose of manufacturing shingles. He intends placing two of his own machines in the premises which will enable him to turn out twenty thousand sawed shingles per diem. The timber is cut and split into bolts, in Snow Shoe township, and shipped over the B. & S. R. R. to this place.

PERSONAL.—Joseph R. Muffly, Esq., formerly of this place, but now of Philadelphia paid us a pop visit this week. His happy countenance betokens prosperity in business and we hope he may live long and enjoy himself.

—Rev. Mr. Holmes, Editor of the Tyrone Blade, a lively Republican paper, gave us a shake of his honest hand this week. We were pleased to learn that his paper is a success. Come often, you are welcome.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Mullin of the M. E. Church, Rev. J. Benson Akers, of Port Matilda, occupied his pulpit last Sabbath, preaching in the morning on the Christian's changing and permanent residence, from Heb. xiii, 14 and in the evening on the christian soldier, from 2 Tim. 2, 3. They were good, strong, discourses and compelled us, for the time being at least, to think that we are mortals, that here we have no abiding city. How careless we are, and how unconcerned.

PRACTICAL BENEFIT OF INSURANCE.—Insurance of every kind is generally admitted to be a good thing, and it has become so general that few men build a house now, or buy valuable furniture without having it insured at once. We are glad to know that Life Insurance, is also becoming more popular, and that our enterprising Life agents are all doing a good business. The time will come when Life Insurance will be as popular as Fire, and when the man who dies without providing for his little ones in this way will be severely censured. But we started this article to show the practical benefit of still another kind of Insurance. Mr. Levi A. Miller the enterprising and wide-awake Grocer, whom everybody in the county knows that makes any effort to buy the best goods at the lowest prices, was insured against accidents by the agent of the company, Mr. E. H. Kinsloe, in the Travelers Accident Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn. Just three weeks from the time of taking out his policy he was severely injured in the hand while assisting at a barn raising on the farm of Dr. Hale, near Bellefonte. He claimed indemnity for loss of time, and no better evidence is wanted of the character and fair dealing of the company than the fact that Mr. Miller has shown us a Draft on the company for the full amount claimed, which was forwarded to him as soon as proof of accident was furnished. Mr. Miller was the first person insured at this agency and it is a remarkable fact that he should be the first man to present a claim for indemnity. We say to our readers, one and all, we are insured against accidents, "Go thou and do likewise."

ITEMS FROM THE CENTRE HALL REPORTER.—Geo. Hoffer, of Centre Hall, showed the editor of the Reporter two stalks of timothy, each measuring five feet in length, one having a head 10½ inches and the other 9½ inches in length. Mr. Allports of Philipsburg beats that.

—Mr. Long, of the upper end of Brushvalley has six stalks of clover which measure five feet and ten inches each. So Fred. Kurtz says.

—Mr. David Shafer, near Madisonburg, raised wheat the heads of which measure six inches in length. That don't beat Christian Dale, of Harris township, his measures six and three quarter inches.

—The house of Mr. Thomas Huston, near the Junction in Nittany Valley, occupied by Geo. Kormon, was destroyed by fire with nearly all its contents, on Sunday morning, the 26th ult.

—The new tri-weekly mail route from Howard to Millheim, went into operation the 2nd inst.

—Millheim was recently visited by a violent whirlwind which did considerable damage to the buildings, trees and fences in that neighborhood.

—John Barrell, son of Samuel Burrell, near Aaronsburg, was drowned in Pine Creek, at Kramer's saw mill in Haynes township, on the evening of the 30th ult.

—The Reporter says, that "M'Cracken having now, in a short space of time, 'busted up' two papers, the National and Plain Words, we would advise the Tyrone Herald to take out a life insurance policy and dicker with some undertaker for a coffin.

MESSRS. WILSON, BETZ & CO., Merchants at Jacksonville, are now offering their lately recruited stock at extremely low prices for cash or produce only, and not for trust. At this particular time they defy the merchants of the county to compete with them in prices, being determined to sell for less money than any one else.

Take a glance at their prices—sugars ranging from 10 to 15 cents including the best white sugar. The best molasses only 85 cents a gallon. Coal oil 40 cts. a gallon and other groceries and provisions fully as low. Dry goods almost given away—the best calico 11 cents a yard. Delaines from 20 to 22 cts. Bleached muslin from 8 to 20 cts., unbleached from 10 to 16 cents. A special reduction made in the price of shoes—best ladie's kid shoes $3,25, best morocco $2,00 to $2,75.

Goods not mentioned here, not an exception to the low prices; but everything in the store sold at very low rates.

Do not fail to call and see them. +

HOW TO STOP A PAPER.—The following from one of our exchanges, so fully and clearly expresses our views upon the subject that we copy it without comment:

"You have an undoubted right to stop a newspaper whenever you are disposed, upon payment off all arrearages. Do not hesitate to do so on account of any 'tenderness of feeling, for the editor. Don't you suppose he would stop buying sugar of you, or meat, clothing, dry goods, &c., &c., if he thought he was not getting his money's worth? And when you discontinue a paper, do so manfully. Don't be so pitiful as to throw it back to the postmaster with a contemptuous, 'I don't want it any longer;' and have 'refused' written on the margin, and have the paper returned to the editor. No gentleman ever stopped a paper in that way, no matter if his head is covered with gray hairs that should be honorable. If you do not wish longer to receive a newspaper write a note to the editor like a man, saying so—and be sure that arrearages are paid. This is the way to stop a newspaper."

LOCUSTS.—The Locusts have come. Not the tax-gathering Locusts that appear to be everywhere they are not wanted, but the genuine, natural, merry singing Locusts, who trill out their sweet songs in the hottest part of the day for mankinds enjoyment, when the rest of natures, songsters refuse to contribute to the happiness of mankind. Thrice, happy welcome, unselfish insect, sing on for poor man's enjoyment until your back splits open and then in gratitude for your unselfishness, we will silently and carefully gather your remains and place them in our pigships plate for his inspection.

HARVEST.—The grass and grain in this county have been nearly all secured from the blight of the weather. The yield of grass is better than last year, and the wheat crop is fully up to the average of years past, although in some localities the "fly" has injured it to some extent. The corn and potatoe crops are as promising as last year. From the government Agricultural reports, we learn that the wheat crop in the U. S., for this year will largely exceed the same crop of last year.

A BASKET MEETING.—A very interesting basket meeting was held in the grove near Mount Eagle, on last Sunday. The Rev. Nathaniel Mitchell, of Howard delivered one of his eloquent and logical discourses on the occasion. A large attendance was on the grounds.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The musical entertainment given by Mrs. M. S. Dunham, and her pupils in the Court House, on last Saturday night was a success. The pupils performed their part admirably, and all went away highly pleased with the entertainment.

PHILIPSBURG ITEMS FROM THE "JOURNAL."—Whortleberries are very plentiful around Philipsburg.

—Rev. Mr. Prideaux, preached a very interesting sermon in the Union Church an Sunday evening last.

—Isaac Haynes, has commenced fencing the cemetry.

THE following obituary notice of Maj. Andrew Hunter, is from the Philipsburg Journal, Maj. Hunter died at Mountain Farm, this county July 11, 1870, aged 82 years:

"Another pioneer has been gathered to his fathers and sleep that sleep that knows no waking. And thus, one by one are passing away those noblemen whose hands have wrought for the welfare of their posterity. Deceased was born at Potter's Fort, Centre county, in 1788. His father was a Revolutionary officer and passed that fearful winter with Washington at Valley Forge. In the year 1799 his parents removed to Centre Furnace, at which place they remained until their death. He was married in 1812, and moved to the Seller's Farm, on Buffalo Run, in 1816. From Buffalo Run he took his departure in 1832, and settled at Mountain Farm, where he resided from that time to the date of his death. Deceased was well known throughout the entire county and sustained a character above reproach. In politics he was earnest never having missed attending an election, primary or otherwise, from the time of reaching majority to the year 1860 and was an aid-de-camp of Gov. Bigler. His sterling integrity gained him the respect and friendship of all who were brought into intercourse with him, and it is a just tribute to his memory that it can be truthfully said he wronged no man. At peace with all on earth, may he have found that peace, the fullness of which is glorious paradise."

THE Educational Gazette for July 16 has reached our table. With this number it makes its first appearance as a weekly journal. As a paper for Teachers, Scholars, and the Home Circle, the Gazette stands at the head of all other journals of its class. Its original articles are instructive, well-timed, and entertaining. The present number contains a portrait of the late Charles Dickens and some excellent extracts from his writings. The subscription is Two Dollars yearly, including a valuable book or periodical, a large list of which is presented in this number of the Gazette. Address the publishers, C. H. Turner & Co., 415 Locust St., Philadelphia, for sample copy.

A PILGRIM.—There appeared on our streets last Saturday, a person dressed in very plain clothing, bare-footed, with staff in hand and his household effects slung over his shoulders who said that he had been traveling in that way for the last 10 years in search of the corpse of the Democratic party. He was directed by some of our kind hearted citizens to the office of the Watchman on High street, by the bridge. After a protracted interview with the Chief of that establishment, he came away satisfied and has now quit his wanderings.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—We hope our people and all others will not fail in putting in an attendance at the annual HARVEST Reception, at the Agricultural College which will take place from the 26th to the 29th inst. Board and lodging will be provided free to all the guests. Gov. Geary will be present, as well as several other dignitaries of the State, and a general good time is anticipated.

LECTURE.—Rev. D. H. Conyer, of West Virginia, addressed our citizens in the Court House, on last Tuesday night, on the inducements held out to persons emmigrating to West Virginia. According to his description, which we are bound to believe, ye local thinks West Va., a good place to immigrate to, and Bellefonte a good place to emmigrate from.

LLOYD'S HOTEL, in Philipsburg, is the very hotel to stop at, where you receive all the attention due a guest. Excellent accommodations of all kinds. Good bed rooms well furnished. The table supplied with the best the market affords. The bar supplied with the best brands of liquors and cigars.

PIC-NIC.—The Good Templars of this place, will hold a Pic-Nic, in the Grove near the Glass Works, on next Saturday. We are informed that an opportunity will be afforded the lovers of terpsichore to "trip the light fantastic toe," on that occasion. May they have a pleasant time.

PIC-NIC.—There will be a pic-nic in the grove near Meek's Church, in Ferguson township, on Saturday, August 6th, 1870, and a good time is anticipated. We intend putting in an appearance on the occasion, no unforseen circumstance preventing.

Two youngsters, Milt Tate and Charley Flynn, while "skylarking" last Monday, on the foot bridge across the canal, fell into the water and if it had not been for considerable exertion made, both would have been drowned.

CREDITABLE.—Mr. Isaiah Welch, colored, formerly of this place, delivered a very creditable closing oration, at the Wilberforce University, Ohio.

EXCURSION.—An excursion party composed of about fifty of Bellefonte's best, most happily-disposed and pleasure enjoying citizens, joined by a number of the pleasure-loving of our sister town, left this on Friday the 15th inst., for Clearfield as their destination. An elegant new car was furnished the party by Mr. Wilkins the obliging Superintendent of the Bald Eagle Valley and Tyrone & Clearfield railroad with comfortable accommodations added much to the pleasure of the excursion. At 11 40 a. m., the excursionists appeared at the Bellefonte depot with countenances indicative of their natural vivacity and beaming with very jolity in view of anticipated pleasure, all comfortably seated in the new car, the engine seemingly as if she knew she were transporting a jolly excursion, gave out a lively, shrill whistle, and started off with electric speed, and joined the party in a parting salute to our town.—The ride, although partaking a little of the tedious over part of the route, was delightful, the scenery over the mountain being so beautiful and varied in its character, and entirely new to a majority of the party, so interested them as to render oblivious all thoughts of weariness.

The view from the Big Fill, which is about half way up the mountain, is one of the most picturesque and grand the eye ever witnessed.

The first object of interest that strikes the observer at this point, and fills him with admiration, is a small, crystal stream, sparkling like liquid diamonds, as it dances along over its pebly bed In the very depth of the ravine, hundreds of feet below him. The eye lingering on the scene for a moment, then naturally follows the course of the stream, and in doing so, it beholds the ravine widening, swallowing up lesser ravines intersecting it at various points, and reaching for miles far down the mountains into the valley, the whole blending into one grand and beautiful picture, charming the eye and delighting the beholder.

The various collieries, the recent and extensive improvements, manifesting a spirit of active enterprise, and the forests of timber along the route were objects of interest.

The party arriving at Philipsburg, lay over there a half hour, during which time they indulged in a promenade through some of the streets, which afforded a pleasant relief, and enabled them to obtain a more intelligent knowledge of the burg.

Our young friend, and former townsmen, D. L. Krebs, Esq., and his friend Mr. Bigler, met us at Philpsburg with a cordial welcome to their town, and there joined our party. We here take pleasure in making an acknowledgment of our obligations to Mr. Krebs for his kindness and earnest effort in our behalf, to which we are certainly indebted for much of our pleasure.

On our arrival at Clearfield we were greeted with a most cheerful welcome by the citizens and our host. The latter, Mr. Colburn, Proprietor of the Shaw house, whose countenance always beams with a pleasant smile, was evidently glad to see us, and, in a very short time, we were all assigned to comfortable apartments, and were feeling perfectly at home.

After brushing off the dust of the ride, at the summons of our host, we appeared in the dining-room, and did ample justice to an elegantly prepared supper, which he well knows how to get up.

At half-past seven in the evening, the citizens of the place, in keeping with their well known reputation for true hospitality and sociability, called upon us in large numbers, among whom were the Hon. Messrs. Bigler, Barret, Wallace, McEnnally, and others, and ladies. And the young people, not to be excelled by the older ones in sociableness, and in endeavoring to add to our pleasure, came in largely, and very agreeably to us, participated in the pleasures of the evening.

All arrangements having been made, and the introductory salutations having been generally gone through with, the variety of a hop was introduced about nine o'clock, where all those who tripped the light fantastic enjoyed themselves hugely, and by which the pleasures of the evening were much heightened.

Lest there might be some one thing left undone, which might have been conducive to our enjoyment, the Clearfield band favored us with a serande, discoursing some elegant music, some of which pieces the dancers took advantage of by keeping time to the same, in the most pleasant way possible.

On Saturday morning the citizens renewed their kindness by placing at our disposal their carriages, driving and showing us around the town and neighboring country. In short, every thing was done that could be done by the citizens for our pleasure and enjoyment, and, to say the least, we think that they are most justly entitled to the reputation for sociability, hospitality and kindness that they enjoy. We left Clearfield happy, because we had gone there and had so pleasant a time while there, and because we became so agreeably and pleasantly acquainted.

On our return, P. G. Meek, S.T. Shugert, W. H. H. Brainerd, Jno. H. Orvis, G. M. Yocum and D. H. Hastings were appointed a committee to draught resolutions expressive of the sense of the party, who reported the following:

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks to the Penn'a Railroad company for furnishing so neat a car, and comfortable accommodations for the excursion.

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks and acknowledge ourselves under grateful obligations to the citizens of Clearfield, and our hosts and their ladies of the Shaw and the Mansion houses, for the manner of our entertainment, and the pleasure afforded us by the sociable and kind attention they gave us.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the papers of Bellefonte and Tyrone.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the party, with one accord, pronounced the excursion a grand success, and the most pleasant ever enjoyed.

And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

EXECUTORS NOTICE.—Letters testamentary on the estate of Patrick Flinn, late of the Borough of Bellefon

THE REPUBLICAN.

Wednesday Morning, July 20, 1870.

Hints to Young Business Men.

Subordinate your own affairs to your employer's. By doing so you really advance your own interests, and in the best way. Never seem to dictate to employers. Suggest, modestly.—Rarely volunteer advice to your superiors, and never except when it is called out by circumstances. Do nothing which would cause chagrin if brought to the light. Many things which are really innocent cannot be made to seem so to others. Avoid the appearance of evil.

Never promise or make engagements thoughtlessly, but, having promised, be punctilious and prompt to execute your contract even at severe loss.—Never waver. Either decide a proposition promptly and finally, or as promptly postpone a decision until some stated time. In the meanwhile, inform yourself regarding the doubtful point; get more light. Having made a decision, adhere to it, unless clearly convinced it is a wrong one; then let no unworthy pride prevent your changing, particularly if the matter be important. In mere matters of routine, involving nothing of serious import, it is better to decide questions off-hand and at once, even if you make some obvious mistakes, rather than waste your time in dallying with trifles and taking counsel of half a dozen. Never permit yourself to be crowded or wheedled into an unwise decision.—Never say Yes, against your better judgment, to get rid of a bore. Learn to say No, with cheerful but unmistakable emphasis. A habit of undiscriminating compliance is a vice, not a virtue.

Never allow little things to vex or excite you. A serene temper lies at the foundation of a successful business career, as well as at the base of manly character. An irritable man reduces his income one-half, and confirmed peevishness is an admirable help to bankruptcy. Be a gentleman under all circumstances and toward all persons. Above all, avoid the common but vulgar sin of tyranizing over those who happen to be under your authority. Merchants who bully their clerks, and clerks who abuse their inferiors, are unworthy the name of business men. They are simply blackguards accidentally engaged in trade.

Seldom consult the opinions of subordinates, except in their special provinces. Promptly check a tendency among subordinates to offer too many suggestions, or to interfere with your matured plans. Be master of your own affairs, and insist on having specific things done as you direct. Be a prompt correspondent. Answer all letters immediately on their receipt, and remember that good English and correct orthography have a financial as well as an artistic value.

In business dress like a thoroughbred business man. Avoid both the slovenly and the flashy; study the golden mean. Apparel sometimes has more weight than a balance at bank.—Plain clothing, selected with taste, fitted by a tailor who knows what he is about, always kept neat, and renewed with reasonable frequency—this is a good general rule.

Become and remain thoroughly conversant with the general principles and the practical details of your particular calling. Understand a few things perfectly, rather than many things indifferently. Be accurate. This thorough knowledge of one's business gives a confidence and a power which are better than capital: they control and command capital. A clerk who manifests no disposition to master the particular branch of trade with which he is connected, may as well go to sawing wood at once. He will never go higher.—Also, a clerk who habitually does only so much as he is told to do is next to worthless. He should see for himself what needs to be done, and then do it without waiting for an order. An employer who is forced to maintain a constant and minute surveillance over his agents, in order to have his work done properly, will soon either do his work himself or secure different assistants.

Bore no one with special or aimless calls during the business hours, and permit no one to bore you in a similar way. It is well to adopt a definite formula for disposing of genteel loafers who attempt to filch your precious time. For instance, greet them with the usual urbanity, exchange a pleasant word, say promptly that you are engaged and must be excused if you seem unsocial, hand the visitor the morning paper and proceed with your work. It is an expensive cowardice that sacrifices business interests to the entertainment of professional interviewers and chronic visitors. Beware a few times, and will you soon be free.

Don't carry your business about with you, like an unhappy load that cannot be laid off. Confine trade to the store, and traffic to the market place. Remember that business is incidental to the main work of life, and then make business keep its place. Growth in Christian manhood is the first thing. This is the end sought—business is one of the means by which it is sought.—Don't invert nature's order, and lose sight of the end in your devotion to the means.

BLEEDING FROM THE NOSE.—Bleeding from the nose is always regarded an unwelcome event, yet in the opinion of Dr. Hall, it always is beneficial, preventing headache or more serious illness, and sometimes arresting apoplexy and sudden death. Therefore it should not be immediately arrested. When the nose threatens to bleed excessively, it can sometimes be arrested by putting the feet into hot water, or by applying a mustard plaster between the shoulders.

THE culture of orange trees in Louisiana, which received little or no notice until within the last few years, is attracting the attention of the lake and river settlers, and thousands upon thousands of young trees have within the last few years been set out. The bearing trees are filled with young oranges, and the crop this year promises to be a large one.

How To Sweeten Work.

How much trouble, vexation, and waste is caused by the want of integrity in our dealings and faithfulness in our duty. The cloth looks fair and substantial, but it is full of starch and shoddy; it is made to appear better than it is. The shoe looks solid and serviceable, but the leather is not half tanned, and the sole is filled in with scraps and paper; the garment is ill-fitting; putty and varnish cover cracks and seams, and glue is the cheap and poor substitute for a wellmade joint; the bricks are laid in untempered mortar, and the best fruit is put upon the top of the measure. The yawning cracks seasoned timber, and the man who built it had an unseasoned character. If you make a purchase, it is with the uncomfortable feeling that you are cheated. The employer tries to get the most service possible for the least wages, and the workman slights his work, wastes his time when the eye of the master is not upon him, and helps himself to the balance he thinks is due him, and as much more as he can take without exposure.—Thus there is worry, and distrust, and fear, and disappointment on every hand.

Now, suppose all this was reversed; that every mechanic and manufacturer put good materials, and honest, faithful work, into every article he made. Suppose the domestic, and the laborer, and the clerk could be trusted, and depended upon to perform their allotted service suppose the servent could trust the master with equal certainty what a change it would make in all human relation! What security, comfort and real satisfaction we should find in buying and selling, in giving and receiving service. How much comfort there is in the garment or shoe that fits and answers our expectations. The clerk or the agent who can be trusted is invaluable. Sleep is sweeter for it, and the heart is lighter, and every path of usefulness is easier and brighter. How much it would lighten our burdens, how much it would free us from care and anxiety, how much it would add to our strength, if every man and woman would do honest, faithful work to the extent of their ability. It would bring one of the most important elements of heavenly happiness down to earth. It would make labor an instrument of love, and fill it with delight and peace. If the mechanic labored from a desire to be useful, he would put his affection into his work. Happy thoughts would fill his heart while his hands were busy with it. This shoe, this garment, he would think, as he hammered and sewed, will do the wearer good service; he shall get satisfaction and comfort from it. The cook would get a keener relish from a well prepared dinner than those who ate it. Every service would have something of the zest and sweetness and heaven in it.

For the REPUBLICAN.

The Currant Worm.

This abominable pest is new to us in this part of the country, and an acquaintance with it may facilitate its annihilation. It seems to be traveling westward, as the first I heard of it was several years ago, from Union county. It is now in our own neighborhood. It is the offspring of a fly, leavier and a little longer than the common house fly. The body is of a dirty yellow color. Some persons fear the worm as poisonous; but it is not.—The fly deposits its eggs on the leaves of the currant, and in a short time the worm is hatched from the egg, very small at first, but growing and feeding on the leaves. It grows about an inch in length, stripping the bushes of leaves without disturbing the fruit. About three weeks ago, I procured some worms from the bushes of Joseph Green, Esq., of Milesburg, fed them on currant leaves, in a jar, closed at the top with tarlatan. On the 29th of June, the first worm spun itself on the bottom of the jar, in a dirty cocoon, and in twelve days the flies appeared in the jar. Those not imprisoned are now on the wing, and traveling, spreading the disaster. In a few weeks, another crop may be looked for. Each female will lay from two hundred to four hundred eggs. The question now is, how to get rid of them, as the currant is too precious a fruit to have destroyed in this way. Feeding in communities, they may be shaken off the bushes into a vessel, and emptied on a clean place and tramped, or buried alive. This seems to be the easiest, cheapest, and least dangerous way of ridding ourselves of the rascals, Truly yours,

JOHN D. WINGATE.

TO DESTROY THE STRIPED OR CUCUMBER BUG.—A correspondent writes to the Maryland Farmer:

"I send you an item, if you think it worth publishing, which effectually protected my melon, squash, cucumber and other vines from that destructive pest, the 'striped cucumber bug,' the past, season, with only one application viz: A strong solution of henhouse manure say one peck of the manure to one and a half gallons water let it stand twenty-four hours, and sprinkle the plants freely with it after sunset.

The above was suggested to me by a negro woman living on my place, who has some practical experience in gardening, and says she has used it for years, and has never known the first application to fail to drive them off, and they never return.

A GOOD story is told of a Tioga county merchant, who agreed to take a farmer's oats at forty cents a bushel if the latter would let him tramp the measures when filled. The farmer agreed to it. The buyer paid for sixty bushels and next day went after them. The farmer filled the half bushel and the merchant got in and tramped them down. Whereupon the farmer poured the oats so compressed into the bag. The merchant protested, and demanded that the measure should be filled up after tramping. The farmer informed him that there was no agreement of that sort, but that he might tramp to his heart's content after they were measured.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

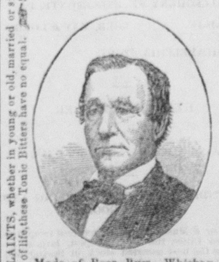
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

More Than 500,000 Persons Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,



Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, declared spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins: cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.

J. WALKER, Prop'r, 32 Commerce, St., N. Y. R. A. McDONALD & CO., Druggist, and general Agents, San Francisco and Sacramento, California, and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic possessing also the peculiar merit of acting specially upon the Liver, and all the Viscera or Internal Organs, in restoring their healthy action. Be sure and call for WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, and take no other. See Pamphlet as to selecting Cathartics, or Inflammation of
